

Dear All,

Please note there is currently an ongoing transport strike in Spain, with multiple transport associations involved across the country. The action is due to the escalating cost of fuel and a push for government intervention.

The strike started on 14th March and is still ongoing, without any clear sign of a cease date. It is understood the government may look to act on 29th March but not before, this is still to be confirmed.

This is now starting to seriously impact our distribution network & operations in Spain, the impact differs significantly, depending on the city or region.

We have been informed that transport shortages could continue in the coming weeks, ultimately leading to challenges and delays in our distribution in Spain.

Please be advised that our HT partners in Spain are continuously working on measures to try and reduce any disruption caused by the strike where possible, although this is extremely challenging due to external infrastructure factors.

We will keep you advised of any updates received and continue to monitor
